

Workplace Bullying is Equivalent to Murder

If someone is bullied to the state that they are suicidal then this is very serious. The victim should be compensated about 10 million dollars and the injurer should be jailed for about 40 years. Essentially workplace bullying is equivalent to murder. The author has experienced psychosis, panic attacks, generalized anxiety disorder, depression, bipolar as well as being suicidal in the last 8 years. The author was constantly bullied by Denny Meyer from the years 2007-2008 Swinburne university during my adjunct appointment. I notified Glen Bates the Head of School about the bullying but failed to act and therefore Glen Bates will be jailed for a number of years. In an incident where the author called the police and got the university into trouble, Brian Phillips as a breach of confidentiality notified Denny Meyer and subsequently bullied me on this incident. The author then resigned from the university. Hence Brian Phillips should be jailed for a number of years. The only way to prevent Denny Meyer being jailed for about 40 years and Brian Phillips being jailed for a number of years, is for the university to directly pay 10 million dollars into my account.

The author was constantly bullied by John Zeleznikow from the years 2009-2010 Victoria university during my adjunct appointment. Hence John Zeleznikow will be jailed for about 40 years. John Zelenikow bullied me into doing voluntary work with the Western Bulldogs AFL Football club under Simon Dalrymple. The author was never paid for doing this work and was unemployed at the time. Not being paid for work is illegal and a form of bullying. Clare McMahon was also aware of what was going on. When I spoke with the department that deals with commercialisation, they did not address the issue. The author was offered to do a post-doc with the Victorian Institute of Sport but Steven Bannon at the time decided to not have me undertake the project because my interests were in probability modelling (and not in data mining) and bullied me over this incident. So, they got someone else to do a post-doc instead namely Bahadorreza Ofoghi. If the VIS were not interested in research in probability modelling then they should not have offered me the post-doc in the first place. This is a form of bullying. Both John Zeleznikow and Clare MacMachon are responsible for this and was bullied by both of them in a meeting. John Zeleznikow contacted my direct family about an email. This incident was reported to Pauline Stanton Head of School in a private meeting where Pauline would not address the issue. Hence Pauline Stanton will be jailed for about 40 years. The issue was sent to the Executive Dean of the Faculty of Business and Law, and the VC Elizabeth Harman terminated my adjunct appointment (pdf). Hence both the Executive Dean and Elizabeth Harman will be jailed for about 40 years. The only way to prevent John Zeleznikow, Pauline Stanton, the Executive Dean and Elizabeth Harman for being jailed for about 40 years is for the university to directly pay 10 million dollars into my account.

Valmae Freilich is a board member for the Herbert and Valmae Freilich Foundation under the Australian National university. Every time the author sent an email to Valmae or other board members she contacts my direct parents. This is clearly a form of bullying. The only way to prevent Valmae Freilich being jailed for about 40 years is for university to directly pay 20 million dollars into my account.

The author was asked to be an expert witness for a case involving gambling on deterministic jackpot machines (pdf). Essentially the author can prove using mathematics that such a system is possible to generate a large amount of income. The author was never paid for this work because the prosecutors were looking to prove that the money was generated through money laundering and not for profits through deterministic jackpots. This is a form of bullying.
