

The Fifth Force of Nature

By Tristan Barnett

Abstract

This article provides evidence that a fifth force of nature could exist (as the will of God) in addition to the established four fundamental forces of nature. Evidence is also given to suggest that the author is possibly the Second Coming of Jesus.

1. Introduction

The four fundamental forces of nature are well established as the gravitational force, weak nuclear force, electromagnetic force and strong nuclear force. The weak and strong forces are effective only over a very short range and dominate only at the level of subatomic particles. Gravity and electromagnetic force have infinite range.

In March/April 2013 the author felt a force as something leaving the body whilst visualising a bird in supposedly the spiritual world. This suggests that there is an additional force in nature of something of spiritual substance in which cannot be defined by science. This encounter with the bird appears to reflect the situation when Jesus was baptized as documented in the Bible. Mathew 3:16 "And when Jesus was baptized, immediately he went up from the water, and behold, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming to rest on him". Even further, there was a dead bird present a few days later with only the feathers (there was no body present) indicating some form of 'resurrection'. This could possibly suggest that the author is in fact the Second Coming of Jesus. This additional fifth force of nature and the possibility of the author being the Second Coming of Jesus will be explained in detail throughout this article.

2. Bhagavad Gita

The Bhagavad Gita is a conversation between Arjuna, a supernaturally gifted warrior about to go into battle, and Krishna – the Supreme Personality of Godhead, his charioteer. In the course of giving Arjuna all manner of spiritual and material advice, Krishna explains karma, the self, the Supreme Self, the purpose of yoga, the difference between our self and our material body, how our environment affects our consciousness, and how to attain the perfection of life. The Gita appears as a central chapter in the Mahabharata, the history of greater India. It is the essence of Vedic knowledge and one of the most important books of Vedic literature. Lord Krishna spoke the Bhagavad Gita to Arjuna about 5000 years ago and through disciplic succession the Bhagavad Gita As It Is gives commentary on the verses by Lord Krishna by His Divine Grace A.C. Bhaktivedanta Swami Pradhupada. Essentially the Bhagavad Gita As It Is is the highest authoritative text to explain the universe and the commentary is "almost" 100% accurate.

3. What defines a human

From the Bhagavad Gita As It Is our bodies are composed of both material and spiritual. The material body contains the gross body (earth, water, fire, air and space) and the subtle body (mind, intelligence and false ego). But above all these elements there is the spiritual soul. There's no life in the material elements, life is the spiritual soul which is eternal, full of knowledge and bliss. The soul contains two parts the individual soul and the Supersoul (a plenary expansion of God). The soul is one ten thousandth the size of the tip of a hair and is located in the heart, and cannot be measured under laboratory conditions. The material body is currently dead. The only thing keeping it alive is the soul or consciousness (energy emitted by the soul). At the end of this life we reincarnate into another body depending on our karma. Ideally you want to achieve a spiritual body and escape the re-birth and death process and hence travel the entire universe with Krishna in total bliss – that is our purpose in life. Three quarters of the universe is spiritual. There are 8.4 million species of life including 400,000 species of humans (based on our level of consciousness). Every form of life contains an individual soul and a Supersoul.

4. Types of life

Typically, there is plant, animal and human forms of life. But there is a higher form of human life known as demigods but still have a material body (they are not God, which is purely spiritual). Demigods can typically walk through walls, walk on water and have healing powers. Jesus for example was a demigod. Through quantum tunneling it is proven scientifically that a human can walk through a wall with a very low probability. The highest level of consciousness for a human is walking through a wall. Therefore, it could be argued that a demigod is in fact the highest form of a human. This also shows the transition from material to spiritual knowledge. It is well established in the Bible that Jesus as a demigod had healing powers (Jesus even brought someone back to life). This somewhat proves scientifically that any disease can be cured by spiritual advancement.

5. Karma

According to Vedic literature and outlined in the Bhagavad Gita As It Is, karma is the law of cause and effect. For every action there is a cause as well as a reaction. Karma is produced by performing fruitive activities for bodily or mental development. One may perform pious activities that will produce good reactions or good karma for future enjoyment. Or one may perform selfish or what some call sinful activities that produce bad karma and future suffering. This follows a person wherever he or she goes in this life or future lives. Such karma, as well as the type of consciousness a person develops, establishes reactions that one must experience. So, when the living beings take birth again, they get a certain kind of body that is most suitable for the type of consciousness they have developed. There are 8.4 million species of life, each offering a particular class of body for whatever kind of desires and consciousness the living being may have in this world. In this way, the living entity is the son of his past and the father of his future. Thus, he is presently affected by his previous life's activities and creates his future existence by the actions he performs in this life. A person will reincarnate into various forms of bodies that are most suitable for the living entity's consciousness, desires, and for what he deserves. So, the living being inevitably continues in this cycle of birth and death and the consequences for his various good or bad activities as long as he is materially motivated. For example, if one chooses to eat meat, then they run the risk of being reincarnated into a tiger since tigers are used to eating meat. If a young girl walks around half naked attracting attention of the opposite sex, then they run the risk of being reincarnated into a tree since trees stand their naked all day.

6. Spiritual encounters

In March/April 2013 a series of three separate events took place for the author of a spiritual nature at his student residence 22/122 Culloden Rd, Marsfield, Sydney. The first event featured a black bird tapping its beak on the author's front glass door several times before turning its head to look the author in the eye, and then flying off. The second event involved a black bird swooping down from the opposite apartment and pecking on the door several times/looking the author in the eye in the same spot of the previous bird before flying off. The author was standing in the kitchen of his apartment at the time when a strange feeling of energy was felt (as a force) whilst observing the bird swooping down. During this process the author's sense of hearing appeared to block the surrounding sounds and a strange 'whizzing' sound was heard of the bird flying down to the door. The third event featured the skin/feathers of a 'dead' black bird appearing in roughly the same spot that the previous birds had pecked on the door. The exact dates of these events are difficult to trace but can be confirmed to have taken place between the 27th March and the 8th April. These events occurred as a direct result of making the connection with yoga and conflict resolution within an ideology, such that 'Yoga is the most effective method to resolving conflicts'. Given that all religions are circumstantial for their period in history, it can therefore be concluded that this ideology and associated policies is a revelation that has been approved by God as a method for how society today should function to assist to bring about world peace. This is documented in 'The Book of Tristan'. The events also appear to symbolize Jesus, since the final event featured a dead bird with no body present and hence a 'resurrection'. The author's 'out-of-body' experience was such that the author was 'killed' by God and then raised from the dead. Also, the best explanation for how the feathers appeared on the author's doorstep days after the 'out-of-body' experience is such that a Spirit Being descended and placed them there and this Spirit Being was actually God, since from Vedic literature there are many incarnations of God. To be killed by God and raised from the dead in such an 'out-of-body' experience is a very high achievement that any individual can obtain. For this reason, the author has been appointed by God as the next King for the Jewish people following Messiah Jesus. It is worth noting that the author had very little understanding of religion and spiritual knowledge prior to these spiritual encounters. The significance of the author's 'out-of-body' experience whilst visualizing a bird is directly connected with the Bible. Mathew 3:16 "And when Jesus was baptized, immediately he went up from the water, and behold, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming to rest on him".

The author contacted the Australian Institute of Parapsychological Research about the spiritual encounters. The response was that the out-of-body experiences (which occur in about 20% of the population) was not a typical out-of-body experience which is regarded as a veridical out-of-body experience. One of the reviewers regarded it as something more of a mystical experience and therefore can be regarded as something very unique. More information about typical out-of-body experiences can be found <http://www.aiprinc.org/Out-of-body-experiences/>

The force felt when the author's soul left the body as an out-of-body experience by visualizing a bird in the spiritual world is an indication that there is a fifth force of nature (the will of God) which cannot be explained by science. Further, Einstein read the Bhagavad Gita and recognized that there was a Supreme that could not be explained by science and makes this quote "When I read the Bhagavad-Gita and reflect about how God created this universe everything else seems so superfluous". Further, parapsychology is a recognized science and analyses the supernatural including the Supreme and out-of-body experiences. Essentially spiritual knowledge is actually a science (or the science of God).

7. Truth about Jesus

The following verses are outlined in the Qur'an:

4:159 That they said (in boast), "We killed Christ Jesus the son of Mary, the Messenger of Allah";-but they killed him not, nor crucified him, but so it was made to appear to them, and those who differ therein are full of doubts, with no (certain) knowledge, but only conjecture to follow, for of a surety they killed him not.

9:30 And the Jews say, Ezra is the son of Allah, and the Christians say, the Messiah is the son of Allah; that is what they say with their mouths. They imitate the saying of those who disbelieved before them. Allah's curse be on them! How are they turned away!.

It is also implied in The Qur'an that 'Jesus is not God and is not the Son of God'

The Bhagavad Gita As It Is refers to Lord Krishna as the Supreme Soul, fully spiritual, omnipotent and omniscient and cannot suffer the miseries that we do in this material world. Jesus had a material body. The Holy Spirit is a plenary expansion of God and is located in the heart. This is more commonly known as the Supersoul which is present in every living entity. There are 8.4 million species of life. Any human can potentially pass through a barrier, known as quantum tunnelling. Therefore, Jesus walking out of the enclosed tomb is somewhat trivial. But why did Jesus walk out of the tomb with a material body (rather than a higher spiritual body)? This is because Jesus thought he was God (when in fact he was a demigod). That is why Jesus thought he could forgive sin. So, Jesus was reincarnated at death into another demigod body. Demigods are capable of ascending to heavenly material planets but have to return to earth at some point in time to take on another body. That explains the Second Coming of Jesus. God gave Jesus healing powers, to walk on water, walk through walls and foresee the future (typical of demigods). Jesus claims that he and the Father are one. As explained previously the Holy Spirit (a plenary expansion of God is present in the heart of Jesus). The Holy Spirit (or more generally the Supersoul) is present in all living entities along with the individual soul. The soul is one ten thousandth the size of a tip of hair and is eternal and cannot be destroyed, but merely transmigrates into another body at the end of each life based on our karma. The Father is mentioned several times in the Bhagavad Gita As It Is as being God, and the Father is purely spiritual. The Father, Yahweh and Allah and incarnations of Lord Krishna – the Supreme Personality of Godhead. Jesus was not the Son of God but rather a son of God. In fact all humans are sons of God because we are part-and-parcel with God. The Qur'an states that Jesus was not killed but was made to believe so. From the Bhagavad Gita As It Is we are not these material bodies but eternal souls and therefore cannot be killed. Our bodies are changed from one form to the next at the end of each life according to our karma. If we have bad karma then we can descend to being reincarnated as an animal. Good karma will get us to a spiritual body and ascend to a spiritual planet and live in eternal bliss with God, and escape the process of death and rebirth. This is our purpose in life to obtain a spiritual body in the afterlife. There are 400,000 species of humans based on our level of consciousness (energy emitted from the soul). The material body is dead. The only thing keeping it alive is the soul (or consciousness - energy emitted by the soul). The highest level of consciousness is walking through a wall – which is typical of demigods. Therefore, the highest form of human is in fact a demigod. There is an even higher form of life than demigods that is still not God. Jesus was the Son of Man, Messiah (meaning anointed King) and savior for the world at the point in time in history. However, Jesus was insulting God by claiming to be God and the Jews were correct in crucifying him. Therefore, Jesus failed to save the world.

Hence there are no contradictions between the Bible and the Qur'an in relation to Jesus.

There are nearly 100 biblical passages discussing the Second Coming of Jesus Christ, but there is no clear indication on when and how he will return. Jesus told His disciples: "No one knows about that day or hour, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father... Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left. Two women will be grinding with the hand mill; one will be taken and the other left... Therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come" (Matthew 24:36, 40, 42).

From the Bible it is revealed that Jesus received a material body after the crucifixion rather than a spiritual body. This further implies that Jesus was insulting God by claiming to be God. It can be argued that this material body was in fact another demigod body, since demigods are capable of ascending to demigod planets. Whilst Jesus was on this demigod planet he was still claiming to be God and after dying on this demigod planet was reincarnated into a lower form of life as a human – arguably being the author based on the spiritual encounters that reflect Jesus. This is the law of karma. Life is eternal and we reincarnate into another species of life based on our karma until we obtain a spiritual body and escape the re-birth and death process.

8. Conclusions

Based on the author's experience of feeling a force present as an out-of-body experience whilst visualizing a bird in the spiritual world, this article has provided evidence that there is an additional fifth force of nature present (as the will of God) in addition to the accepted four fundamental forces of nature. Given this out-of-body experience appears to reflect when Jesus was baptized, a dead bird appearing a few days later but with no body present (only the feathers) as a form of 'resurrection', and the reincarnation process based on the law of karma; possibly suggests that the author is actually the Second Coming of Jesus.
